

Notably, motor insurance and protection and savings insurance saw significant rises in gross written premiums during this period