

The Belding, often characterized by its unique features and striking colors, can resemble art because of its aesthetic qualities. Just as art can evoke emotions and provoke thought, the Belding can inspire appreciation for nature's creativity.