One of the most serious problems facing many developing	g countries especially Nigeria is the rapid and .uncontrollable increase in their population