Assurance services, attestation services, and non-assurance services differ in the level of confidence 3.1 and verification they provide for users of information.Here's a summary of each category: