

Conference training" is a type of educational training that takes place within a conference or a training event. It involves the delivery of lectures, interactive sessions, workshops, and presentations with the aim of enhancing knowledge and developing skills for participants