

The processor is called as the brain of the computer. It is measured by Hertz (Hz. ) For example, a clock speed of 3.6 GHz CPU can perform 3.6 billion cycles per second