

As you can see, most of the iPhones released in the last 12 years. The iPhone is one of the two largest smartphone platforms in the world alongside Android, forming a large part of the luxury market. In 2008, Apple released the iPhone 3G and launched the App Store with an initial 500 applications available.