

So the Poet in the Poem talks about a simple visit she made to her grandmother to Say Hi , but when she asked Her about Her day, she discoverd that her grandmother was waiting for someone to ask her that , and when she started Speaking about what she have done in her day she knew How hard the work that her grandma do comparing to her Littile weak body , So She started realizing , How much care . she needed no one gave her