

Nike significantly impacts the economy through employment, exports, retail sales, brand value, and corporate social responsibility, creating jobs, contributing to international trade, attracting tourists, and supporting social welfare