

A balanced diet is crucial for staying healthy and means eating the right ratio of the three main macronutrients: fat, protein, and carbohydrates. Or can you estimate by just looking at a food how much fat it contains