

sample collection and requirements :- Collection of samples in the field for epidemiological studies should be accompanied by a form that includes (the patient's name, a unique identification number, demographic information and the patient's health status).