

Based on the results, it appears that a large percentage of the sample stated that recreational factors greatly affect the educational status, and many of them answered that one of the reasons for university .entertainment is self-confidence.They must have self-confidence to be successful in the workplace