This checklist, which is based on in-depth research and industry insights, gives digital leaders a thorough tool to evaluate and handle important factors when using AI. By methodically evaluating the technology, organization, and people aspects, businesses and digital leaders can boost their chances of a successful digital transformation and obtain a competitive advantage in the digital era.