

friendship is something we all need and care about. Friendship has a deep meaning. We need friends when we are happy, and we need them when we have a hard time. We meet our friends everyday in school, at work, or anywhere. Friends are priceless. We should remember that, friendship is more important, even if it requires some sacrifices