

We anticipate facing challenges in the next quarter, particularly in terms of market competition and economic uncertainty. However, we are confident in our ability to navigate these challenges successfully and remain on track to achieve our goals. We will be closely monitoring the market and staying up-to-date on industry trends and best practices.