

Additionally, calculating the effect size proved that the program was effective in improving the beliefs of .73% of the experimental group