

A teacher's job entails planning lessons for pupils of varying ages and abilities and imparting knowledge to them. They also keep records of student's achievements, which may include everything from yearly growth graphs to portfolios of their artwork.