| A mistake I learned from in my life i | s postponing homework and studying for exams. I used to think that .would be able to study for exams a day or two before the the exam |
|---------------------------------------|---|
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |
|                                       |   |