

The data processing system processes and analyzes the collected data to produce images and spectra
.of celestial objects