

The conversation between Louka and sergius Sergius and Louka have a conversation that shows how different they are. Louka doesn't give up. She says she is better than Raina because she doesn't pretend to be perfect. In the end, Sergius says sorry for hurting her, but Louka doesn't accept his words. Sergius is shocked by her bravery and refuses. Louka walks away with pride, showing she is strong and doesn't let Sergius control her. Their talk shows how people lie and hide their true selves. She shows him the bruise on her arm and asks him to kiss it to make it better. This part of the story shows Sergius is not as good as he wants people to think. Louka is smart and strong, even though she is just a servant
