

The celebration appears to be on the left side because the photographer is capturing the important event happening on the left side of the picture and there are a lot of people and buildings around them that look like they are in a city