

Recycling reduces the need to extract raw materials, which reduces the energy needed for production,
.environmental damage caused by mining or drilling, and saves materials from landfill