

The characteristics of teaching strategies – the existence of learning goals.– stating the learning objectives before designating activities.– interaction between students and material.– having students learn a set of objectives with appropriate instructions