

Molted or Poor Past Egg Production: Plumage: These hens will have patches of new feathers mixed in with older feathers. Pigmentation: Their beaks, shanks, and vents will have more yellow pigment. This indicates they are currently molting or have recently molted, taking a break from egg laying