

Jack's mother asked him to build a snowman on a snowy winter day. Jack wanted to decorate his snowman with a carrot nose, a hat, and other accessories. While Jack was rolling a snowball for the snowman's head, his new neighbour, Naoko, came out to help. Naoko thought snowmen only had two snowballs, but Jack insisted they needed three. They disagreed on how to build the snowman, so Naoko decided to make her own. Jack finished his snowman, but his head fell off right as his father arrived. Naoko helped Jack roll a new head for the snowman before his father came home. Jack noticed Naoko's snowman was missing a nose and gave her half of his carrot
