There are about 500,000 hotels around the world.Every day, receptionists, servers, chefs, and managers work in these hotels looking after their guests.I keep oversleeping and missing the best part of the day!" At a hotel in Spain: "There are too many tasty dishes on the restaurant buffet.Here are some very weird requests that hotel workers have actually heard: "Would you mind lending me your suit tomorrow? T have a job interview to go to!"To a receptionist in the middle of the night: " haven't been able to sleep at all! My wife won't stop snoring!"In the U.S., around two-thirds of these complaints are about the noise that other guests are making.Sometimes, guests' requests and complaints can make a hotel worker's job "?almost impossible!"Can you make sure all the strawberries in my cereal are the same size
