

.Everything is, by nature or by accident, subject to decay and destruction