

In the first case: The reason for the appearance of the blue color in the filter is due to the ability of the ● methylene blue particles to pass through the pores of the filter paper, in addition to the force of attraction (bonding) between the methylene blue particles and the water molecules