

The internship aided the intern to have a deep knowledge about the oil field services, been enlightened on the application of theories in real life situations, baker Hughes wireline has offered me the opportunity to learn and develop myself in many areas, the internship has prepared me to be ready to serve the needs of oil and gas industry and commerce more effectively upon graduation, this included providing, real life experience and exposure, accordingly gained first hand exposure of working in the real world, .getting connected and developing professional network