

The scholarship program at Arizona State helps athletes focus on their sports without worrying about tuition fees. Students at Arizona State who receive scholarships often use them to pay for their tuition, books, and living expenses