

The layoffs affected multiple departments, including teams responsible for in-game content (Keeps, WZM bundles & events), the social media team, and other areas across different studios. This explains the lack of new content in those areas recently.