Learning how to calculate the current activity of radioactive sources theoretically.