

When the summer holiday is over, most students start to think of the new school year. This, of course, needs several days of adaptation, it is essential to so it adapting with this new routine a few days before school, Als Also, they should buy to start study resources available for their grade. Having a good dictionary, jan encyclopedia, software and other things are certainly very beneficial for any student. Moreover, he can donate his old books, pens and school things if they are still usable. educational E Secondly, creating a a pleasant study environment a few days before school starts is a must. ??????????