Road safety is currently a top priority for the UAE government.