

Concept on the diagnosis and management of urinary tract infections in children has changed significantly. Top-down approach for the first UTI is gaining popularity.