

eLearning, on the other hand, relies on online videos, tests, and courses to deliver employee training.