

Break even point in units is the point where total units need to equal total contribution margin and fixed expenses.