

Human safety refers to the essential requirements for individuals to maintain their health and ensure they feel satisfied and comfortable in their daily lives. This includes a wide range of measures and practices aimed at protecting individuals from various health