Medication Discrepancies on Hospital Admission When patients are admitted to a hospital, it is essential to obtain the home medication list, including not only the medication the patient is prescribed, but also information on "over-the-counter" (i.e., non-prescription) medication, contra-indicated medication (for example, due to a prior adverse drug reaction), and drug allergies.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com