

We are all accountable for our actions and should strive to be positive role models, reflecting the values we want in our community.