Family and school are two fundamental pillars in the development of an individual.They inspire curiosity, critical thinking, and a love for learning.It is a place where they are exposed to new ideas, diverse cultures, and various subjects that broaden their horizons.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com