

If the rate of change of  $B$  is known, the magnetic field,  $B$ , can be measured by measuring the induced emf.