There are road accidents in the city daily. We can avoid road accidents if we ourselves are attentive and also cautious of others' faults who are also driving on the roads. There are other drivers who are addicted to drugs or narcotics, even there are some who are not expert in driving. Besides, fast and rash driving contributes to road accidents. I was travelling with my uncle on a motorbike. My uncle knew that roads become slippery after rain. Luckily the vehicles coming from behind were also slow because of a turn ahead. Road accidents are very common in big cities. There are various reasons for accidents. There are some drivers who drive rashly. We should be very careful and attentive while driving on the roads. It was a rainy day. I got up at once.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com