

The use of medically assisted reproduction treatments before conception was reported in 5.2% (n512,943) of the sample.