

Low cardiac output can stimulate the sympathetic nervous system. Later on, blood pressures may drop and patient can become hypotensive.