

There is no difference between women and men. Kuwait, is a great example for a developing country that succeeded to apply the equality concept between women and men. so here, we need to ask ourselves, Do you believe in inequality between women and men? And finally, what are the incomes of achieving equality? Do you think that employers' wages can affect our society?