Academically oriented, preparing students for the matriculation examination, which is the first high-stakes national exam.Graduates can enter the workforce directly or continue to universities of applied sciences.It includes significant on-the-job training through apprenticeships.

Summarized by © lakhasly.com