

Amazon operates as both an e-commerce and m-commerce platform. The website is fully optimized for desktop use, while the Amazon mobile app allows users to shop on smartphones and tablets. The mobile app also includes features like barcode scanning, allowing users to compare prices and access product information on the go