

Space tourism is the commercial activity of traveling into space for recreational, leisure, or business purposes. Instead of astronauts going on scientific missions, space tourism allows regular people (with a significant budget) to experience spaceflight.