

In the end, we are proud of what the state is doing, and we aspire to become the first country in the world in all disciplines